

VLADIĆIN HAN MUNICIPALITY

Investment Brochure

1. Mayor's greeting and invitation

Dear friends,

On behalf of the Vladičin Han municipality and on my personal behalf, I have the honour to invite and welcome you to our town. I am convinced that I share the pleasure of all the citizens from the Vladičin Han municipality due to your decision to invest and operate in this area.

Vladičin Han is a municipality where diligent and energetic people live, the right place for you, just the destination where "money can work". And why is that so? Exactly for its favourable geostrategic position, developed road and public utility infrastructure, qualified and competitive labour force with developed work culture, simplified legal – administrative procedures, measures which enable equal treatment of all investors, as well as dedication of the municipality management to provide effective and successful development of the local community and living conditions of better quality for all the citizens.

Vladičin Han municipality is located on the paneuropean Corridor 10, whose second lane is currently being constructed, and its completion is expected in three years, which is our comparative advantage. Railway line Budapest – Subotica – Belgrade – Niš – Skopje – Athens, as well as the vicinity of airports in Niš and Skopje, are of the extreme importance.

Although it belonged to a group of youngest industrial communities, by its achieved economic effects, number of employees, range of production and and share in the formation of gross national income, until the beginning of 90-ies in the previous century, Vladičin Han municipality had been at the very top of the state existing then.

The Office for the local economic development and enterprise of the Vladičin Han municipality is one of the instruments for the local economy improvement and provision of environment suitable for the opening of new jobs and attracting investments. Vladičin han municipality management is also responsible and qualified enough to maintain the course in attracting local and foreign investments through creating conditions for their fulfillment. Our objective is to create conditions for the employment of our fellow citizens, development of existing economy and starting up new plants, infrastructure construction, worthy of our geographic location, agriculture development, reinforcing villages, creating conditions for tourism development and circumstances for healthy growth of our children and youth, and dignified old age of our citizens.

It is our wish wish that Vladičin Han becomes a short-break place on Corridor 10 for every passenger passing by, as had been the case for centuries before.

We have laid foundations for a brighter and more fruitful future of the Vladičin Han municipality through responsible work, diligence and dedication.

With respect and determination,

Goran Mladenović,
Vladičin Han municipality Mayor

- ✓ 18% VAT – among the most competitive within Central and Eastern Europe;
- ✓ A 10–year profit tax exemption for investments over 7 million € which employ at least 100 workers.

Very competitive and various investment incentives designed so as to reduce investment projects in Serbia. In the period of four years, approximately 47.3 million EUR have been approved in the form of state grants. As a result of that, more than 80 new investment projects have been implemented, valued at over 600 million EUR, bringing over 17,200 jobs throughout Serbia.

Serbian labour force combines extreme work efficiency with a large offer of labour force. With a unique combination of high quality and low price, this is one of the key factors in achieving a high level of operation. Labour force costs in Serbia are comparable with those in the south-eastern Europe countries, while in comparison with eastern-European countries which are EU members, they are by 50% lower. The number of university-level degree citizens increases by more than 15% per year, on average about 16,500 each year. Besides that, low costs of public utilities enable companies to achieve high profit rates.

Serbia can also take pride in the largest number of people with good command of English language in eastern Europe. Serbia took the third position in the the "EM 20 index" research carried out by a British Audit company Price Waterhouse Coopers (PWC) for the year 2008, which ranks attractiveness of production investments into developing markets. According to this research, Serbia takes seventh place in the field of investments into services.

8. Industry and economy

- Local industry

According to the level of development of the local self-government units, Vladičin Han municipality belongs to group IV of extremely underdeveloped units with local self-government (devastated areas), whose level of development is below 60% of the republic average. Acquired national income and the amount of acquired investments per municipality resident is far below the republic average. Recognition of Vladičin Han municipality industry outside of local boundaries is based on production of food products, building material and wood industry, paper packaging and plastic products, and it has been significantly reduced over the last few years. Most of the industrial companies are no longer operational, and a great number of employees in this branch have lost their jobs.

The development so far has principally been connected to use of agricultural potentials, which are the primary value of this area, as well as development of industrial capacities whose production was based on processing agricultural products, wood and raw minerals, as well as using less qualified work force and using the advantages of the municipality location, which is in the south part of Serbia.

- Budget

The basic goals of the municipality budget for 2014 are improvement of the residents' living standard, industry development and employment, opening of a new investment cycle, agricultural and village development, reduction of public spending through financial discipline, continuance of successful and professional cooperation with donors and global social protection.

9. Investments

- Building permits

Vladičin Han is the right place for right investments. In order to establish easier procedure of building constructions, Vladičin Han municipality has prepared a Guide which should contribute to a faster building permits issue, which you can see at the following link

<http://klevladicinhan.webs.com/Vodl%C3%84%C2%8D%20za%20izdavanje%20gradjevinskih%20ozvola-Vlad%C3%84%C2%8Din%20Han.pdf>

- Agriculture

In the industry structure, agriculture presents a significant branch on the entire municipality territory, with a particular emphasis that it is the agriculture of the individual sector. Even though it can be concluded that the municipality area has favourable conditions for agriculture development, especially fruit growing and cattle breeding (traffic, relief, climate, agricultural land share), it is still on an unenviable level. The reasons for that are numerous: weak economic power of residents, use of available resources in a very extensive way, fragmentation of fertile land in agricultural farms, age structure of agricultural residents (average age of a farmer is 54.3) impossibility of applying modern agritechnical and zootechnical measures.

- Investment potentials

The investment potentials of Vladičin Han municipality have been mentioned in former passages, but you can read the details on this link as well.
